DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 4, 5, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 4, lines 3 and 5, the recitation of "a solution" is indefinite since more than one solution is being recited, however, in claim 1 only at least one nozzle which sprays at least one droplet of a solution is recited, therefore, only one solution is claimed. There is no recitation that different solutions are to be sprayed through the at least one nozzle, only that more than one nozzle can be provided.

In claim 9, lines 3 and 5, the recitation of "a solution" is indefinite since more than one solution is being recited, however, in claim 6 only at least one nozzle which sprays at least one droplet of a solution is recited, therefore, only one solution is claimed. Also, only a single tank is recited in claim 6, therefore, only one solution can be provided. There is no recitation that different solutions are to be sprayed through the at least one nozzle, only that more than one nozzle can be provided.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kundig.

Kundig discloses a solution spray apparatus comprising all the featured elements of the instant invention, note specifically a spray nozzle 21; a heater 28 which heats the solution in the nozzle; a tank 14; and a heat insulating unit 33.

As to claim 2, Kundig discloses all the structural elements of the apparatus and therefore, it is inherent that it would be capable of spraying an EL solution.

5. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lansing et al.

Lansing et al discloses a solution spray apparatus comprising all the featured elements of the instant invention, note specifically a spray nozzle 1; and a heater 2 which heats the solution in the nozzle.

As to claim 2, Lansing discloses all the structural elements of the apparatus and therefore, it is inherent that it would be capable of spraying an EL solution.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 3 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3752

7. Claims 4, 5, 9 and 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gonitzke et al, Simmons, Jr., Coulliette and Bissonnette et al show various spray solution apparatuses with heating means for the solution.
